1. In early June 1955, all Main Administrations in the Ministries for Heavy Machine Construction and for General Machine Construction were instructed to screen personnel in all their affiliated enterprises for persons who had experience in aircraft production and who were politically reliable. The list of these persons was to be made available to the Main Administration for Industrial Requirements. Persons designated by this Main Administration were to be transferred from their present occupations and placed at the disposal of the Main Administration for Industrial for Industrial Requirements.¹
2. Since it is known that persons employed by the Main Administration for Industrial Requirements receive higher wages or salaries than is usually paid in industry, there is great interest within workers' and employees' circles in being hired by the Main Administration for Industrial Requirements.

1 Comment: The former HV 18 of the old Ministry for Machine Construction. This Main Administration is concerned with aircraft construction.
